It appears that Admiral Tyrone had once before made a blunder similar to that which resulted in the loss of the Victoria and was only saved from disaster by the refusal of a Rear Admiral to obey his orders. Under such circumstances, if there is any court-martialing to be done, as has been suggested, it would seem advisable to begin with the Admiralty that retained such a man in a most important position.

A Horrible Death.

David St. John, one of Nevada's old citizens, met with a horrible death last Monday morning.

Dave had secured employment on the Dunphy ranch, some 12 miles from Beowawe in Eureka county and had only been working a few days prior to his death. It seems that he, in company with several other men, were stacking hay on the above named ranch and Dave had brought in a load from the field and was under the large hay derrick used in taking the hay from the wagon and while hoisting a large fork full of hay on top of the stack the boom, that extended over the stack broke, one of the ends bearing the fork full of hay striking Dave on top of the head. He was standing on the wagon at the time, but the blow was so fierce that it knocked him from off the wagon. The men that were working with him hastened to where he lay and found that his skull had been cracked open, extending clear across his head and probably two inches wide, his brains protruding. He died instantly.

Gloomy Outlook at Austin.

The Reveille says the situation in Austin and surrounding country is anything but favorable. When the bottom dropped out of silver a few days ago the Austin Mining Company closed down and that put probably 200 men, directly and indirectly, out of employment. Since that time the streets have shown a gloomy state of affairs.

On Saturday night General Manager Farnsworth arrived in town from Utah. When he left Utah he had resolved to resume operations on his arrival here, for silver was then 75, but when he got here it was 71 and his plans were all upset. The rumor now is that the fewest men possible to keep the property intact would be put on at $2.00 and $2.50 per day. We have no idea what the men think of this plan, except we think that it will be as fighting for a miner with a family to live in Austin on from $55 to $70 per month; and we also think it will be difficult, if not impossible, for the company to make the mines pay at those wages, at the present price of silver.

THE BEAUTY'S PARTNER.

George Bryson Tired of the Phiz Contest.

Yesterday George Bryson dropped into the APPEAL office and said that he desired to be interviewed.

"This d—n Phiz Contest," said he (his exact language is modified out of regard for our church subscribers) "is breaking up my business. My partner, George Givevich, hasn't done a lick of work since the Contest started. When he got at the top of the list, the place wasn't big enough to hold him. He went right off and got a $50 suit of clothes, gets shaved twice a day and poses in the street like a Kearney street statue after a matinee.

I don't dare call him George now, I say Mister Givevich, or Colonel Givevich and I s'pose he'll be General if he wins this Contest.

"He puts in all his time fixing his hair and curling his little black mustache. A fakir came along the other day and told him he could make it grow six inches long with a preparation he had and he stuck the lunatic for a five dollar bottle.

"No I ain't hot because I don't get votes, and the man who says so lies like a house afire. But don't you forget I'm better looking any day than Givevich. I wouldn't have his face for a thousand dollars. If the beauty contest was over in County Kildare, I'd be dead in it and no macaroni faced imported beauty would be looked at. Of course I don't want to be quoted in this, but you just write up a racket—here's two dollars—and then say you made it all up in case he gets on his ear. I'll swear by the horned spoon, I never told you a thing—oh, two fifty is it! well here's the other half—now bang it to him good, but of course I'll deny that interview and say you are the leading liar in seventeen states. Good day, now give it to him dead in the neck and tell him to swap his face off for a last year's sardine can."

BEAUTY CONTEST.

NAME:

Bank Irregularities.

News of bank irregularities come from Virginia City. It is announced that a gentlemen prominent in banking circles, and connected with the Nevada bank, is a defaulter in a sum variously estimated to be between $3600 and $5000. The Virginia Chronicle is as mum as an oyster on the subject, and the Gazette's information is not "official," but where there is so much smoke there must be some fire.

A man named Plank has been arrested, and is now locked up in the Storey county jail, awaiting the examination of the books.—Reno Gazette.

The Virginia Chronicle is one of those careful newspapers that never gives away news which may in any way hurt the feelings of a person who contributes 25 cents a week to its support.

THE SILVER MEETING.

All Political Parties Acting in Harmony.

The Silver Meeting last evening was called to order at the Court House by the Chairman of the County Silver Central Committee, who stated that the movement was not a partisan proposition, but one effort to voice the sentiments of the West on the subject of silver.

There had been a meeting of the Silver Central Committee in the afternoon and they had selected the Hon. H. F. Bartine as Chairman of the meeting.

The gentleman's name was greeted with loud applause as he took the chair.

The following set of resolutions was read by the Secretary of the Central Committee, and adopted unanimously.

During the past few months a money panic has caused extraordinary distress throughout the United States, by reason of which hundreds of banking institutions and mercantile houses have become wrecks. While these grave financial disturbances have involved thousands in misery and ruin, we believe that the object lessons, severe though they are, will result in ultimate benefit to the people of the United States, inasmuch as they will teach the masses of voters—who have been willfully and wickedly kept in ignorance of the money question—that the real cause of this widespread distress in the contraction of currency in inverse ratio to the development of the country.

The demonetization of silver has lowered the price of nearly everything produced in the United States for export, thereby enabling the purchasers of the Old World to secure immense benefits at the expense of the producers of America. As is instanced in the case of cotton, wheat, and other staple articles.

This hardship has extended beyond the producers to other laboring classes and resulted in destitution and poverty heretofore unknown in America.

We charge John Sherman, a Senator of the United States, with the infamous crime of demonetizing silver in the interests of foreign money lenders and bartering away the prosperity of a whole nation to enrich a few bond holders in New York and London.

We believe the free coinage of silver and gold in a ratio of 16 to 1, to be the only possible remedy for the financial ills which afflict the country.

It is better to fight this issue to the finish than to starve, and while the situation today is a more serious menace to the interests of the country than were the causes which led to the Revolutionary uprising of our forefathers in 1776, we hope to reach the desired result by the more peaceful path of Congressional legislation.

Resolved, That we join with Colorado, Utah, Arizona, and our sister States of the West in fighting for our rights, making no halt in the battle against robbery and extortion until our cause, which is the common cause of the country is won.

Resolved, That we, the voters of Ormsby county, are unalterably opposed to the repeal of the Sherman Purchase Act until after the passage of a free coinage bill in a ratio of 16 to 1.

Resolved, That we tender our thanks to our Senators and Representatives in Congress for their services to the State in behalf of the silver interest.

Judge Healy then read a series of resolutions which were tabled, as it was the sense of the meeting that the first series covered the ground.

The resolutions offered by Judge Healy will be printed in the APPEAL of Tuesday.

Hon. H. F. Bartine was chosen as a delegate to the Bimetallist Convention of Chicago, and James Yerington the alternate. It was understood that the Nevada Congressional delegation will be there by special invitation.

The meeting was addressed by Hon. H. F. Bartine, Governor Colcord, Governor Pougade, Judge Healy, Dr. Guinan, J. D. Kersey and others.
